Foreword

Nepal, home to the world's highest peaks, is globally renowned for its exceptional mountain tourism. At the heart of this Himalayan landscape stands Mount Everest (Sagarmatha), a symbol of courage, endurance, and human aspiration, as well as a source of national pride and cultural identity.

Mountain tourism remains a cornerstone of Nepal's tourism industry and an important driver of the national economy. Beyond their scenic grandeur, the Himalayas embody Nepal's rich natural, cultural, and ecological heritage, underscoring our shared responsibility to preserve them through sustainable and responsible tourism.

With the continued growth of mountaineering activities and increasing international interest in Nepal's mountains, the availability of reliable and authentic information has become increasingly important. In line with its longstanding practice, the Department of Tourism is pleased to publish Fact and Figure 2026, presenting comprehensive statistics and information on mountaineering activities conducted in Nepal during the 2025 climbing season. This publication reflects the Department's commitment to transparency, evidence-based policymaking, and the sustainable development of Nepal's mountain tourism.

I am confident that this publication will serve as a valuable reference for policymakers, researchers, academic institutions, expedition operators, mountaineers, and other stakeholders.

I extend my sincere congratulations to all climbers who successfully summited Nepal's mountains during the 2025 season, with special recognition to those who achieved outstanding national and international records. I also pay heartfelt tribute to those who lost their lives in pursuit of these extraordinary achievements and extend my deepest condolences to their families. Their courage and dedication will always be remembered with profound respect.

Finally, I express my sincere appreciation to all government agencies, partner organizations, expedition operators, and individuals whose valuable contributions made this publication possible. I look forward to our continued collaboration in promoting safe, sustainable, and responsible mountain tourism while preserving Nepal's unique Himalayan heritage for future generations.

Safeguard the Himalayas. Sustain Adventure. Inspire Generations.
