Consulate General of Nepal
Chengdu People's Republic of China

I would like to express my sincere gratitude and compliments to the Government of Nepal and Government of People's Republic of China on reaching the remarkable milestone of 70 years of establishment of diplomatic relations between the two countries.

The formal diplomatic relation between two countries was established on 1 August 1955 and it continues to flourish at present with multi-faceted cooperation in trade, culture, tourism, infrastructure development, education, people-to-people exchanges including others. Over 70 years, we have witnessed a sustained support from China in Nepal's overall socio-economic progression and a continued partnership in realising Nepal's developmental goals.

High level exchanges and collaborative initiatives have strengthened our people's historic ties which are encouraged by shared values and geographical proximity. It has also bolstered the integration of ideas, culture, values and beliefs leading towards creating a shared common future for people in the region. The bonds of friendship between our two countries continue to inspire us to work together for a shared prosperous future. With the increasing partnership and engagements between Nepal and the South-western China region, on behalf of the Government and people of Nepal, I would like to express my profound appreciation to all concerned stakeholders of People's Republic of China for their unwavering friendship and continued cooperation. We look forward to strengthening our collaboration to newer heights as we commemorate this milestone.

The Consulate General of Nepal in Chengdu remains steadfast in its commitment to facilitate and strengthen people-to-people relations and social, economic and cultural ties between Nepal and People's Republic of China in the future.

Happy 70th Anniversary of Nepal-China Diplomatic Relations!

With best compliments for the future,

Suresh Raut
Consul General
